POPULAR MEN IN TOWN

FAMILIAR FACES OF THE NATION AT THE BIG HOTELS.

Claus Spreckles, the Sugar King, a the Arno...An Eastern Excursion Party at the Ebbitt...Gossip and Pictures of the Lobby Habitues.

De Wolf Hopper rushed into the office of the Arlington just before going to the theatre last night and exclaimed 'I have heard it, and its one of the best that has ever been written."
"Heard what" inquired the surprised clerk?

"The Wolf opera."
"Heard De Wolf Hopper," queried
the clerk, under the impression that the comedian was springleg a new joke

on him.

"Oh, no, this is no joke. I have just heard the opera of "The Wolf" read, and I am making arrangements to purchase it and produce it in New York next season." With these words Mr. Hopper hurried out of the hotel and was driven to the theatre. The opers referred to was written by John Philip Sousa, conductor of the Marine Band. He read it to Mr. Hopper at the hotel yesterday afternoon and the latter was so pleased that it is probable that he will purchase it.

The decidedly military appearance of General T. W. Hyde attracts attention to him wherever he roes. He is at the Normandie and has come to the city on business. Every one knows how well the Soldier's Home at Bath, Me., has been conducted under his management, but only its inmates appreciate this. The General is short and stout, but straight as an arrow, and wears a grey military mustache and imperial that would have driven the members of France's Old Guard wild with envy.

Norman Findlay, one of the bestknown society men of Philadelphia, is also at the Normandie. He is pretty well known in Washington, too, and is very well known in many other cities. No one knows what brought Mr. Find-lay to Washington at this time of the year or how long he is going to stay, but many of his old triends here will be sorry to here of his departure.

The mighty Claus Spreckles, the Sugar King, is at the Arno. Al-though thousands of men throughout the country tremble at his very gesture. very few of the guests recognized the Pacific Slope magnate. He is of such a retiring disposition that the corridors of the hotel saw but little of him, but this may be an indication of a desire not to be known. Perhaps he has another big scheme on hand.

Another of the Arno's guests is Mr. Lewis, Bishop of Ontario. Mr. Lewis is a very modest-looking gentleman of decidedly clerical appearance, and has mixed but little with the other guests. He is evidently a very studious man and is undoubtedly an intellectual one. judging from his countenance.

A man who probably knows more about New York politics than most pol-iticians is at the Arlington. He is John M. Bailey, clerk of the New York State Senate. It was he who managed Warner Miller's last campaign for United States Senator and many other campaigns. While Mr. Bailey is not outside the breastworks, he is still a staunch friend of the ex-Senator, and will probably again assist him in poli-tics should he again become a candi-

Mr. T. B. Casey, brother of Senator Casey of North Dakota, is another of the guests at this hotel. He is one of the best-known bankers in the Northwest. His headquarters are at Minne-apolis, where he does an extensive banking business. He is here in Washington on business, but at the same time he will lend a hand to help his brothe secure the contested seat.

The Hon. J. V. H. Miller and Mrs. Miller are at the Ebbitt House, Mr. Miller is a New York State railroad man and lives at Ponghkeepsie. He expects to spend a few days in Washington and see the sights and attend to some business at the same time.

General V. T. Groner is also at the Ebbitt House. He is a resident of Boston and is one of the solid business men of that city. He is president of the Merchants Miner Steamship Company whose vessels ply between Boston and Norfolk. He is here on business relating to shipping.

The clerks of the Ebbitt were taxed to their wit's ends to accommodate an excursion party of 100, which arrived in the city yesterday. The members of the party are all from Boston, and they are here on a sight seeing expedition and intend to make the most of their time while they are here.

Chaperoned by Mrs. F. Maybin are six of Philadelphia's well-known so-ciety young ladies. They are at the Ebbitt House, and are the Misses Barn-hurst, Miss C. Stevenson, Miss B. David-son, Miss Kuribaum and Miss A. Paul. These young ladies will spend a few days in this city, during which time they will see all their Washington

Mr. C. Kountze, of the firm of Kountze Brothers, the well-known firm of New York bankers, is at Willard's Kountze is a frequent visitor at this hotel and is nearly as well known in Washington as in New York.

Mr. M. F. Blaine, the good-natured proprietor of the Kirkwood House at Geneva, N. Y., is at the Harris House. Mr. Blaine is a typical hotel man, but bears no resemblance to his namesake, the Sccretary of State.

Worth Bagley of the United States Naval Academy, is at the Metropolitan. He is a handsome young man and will remain but a short time in the city.

Among the guests at the National is Mr. A. M. Shannon of Galveston. Texas. Mr. Shannon is a member of the well-known firm of A. M. Shannon & Co., which is at present engaged in building jettles for the Government in the harbor of that city.

Ex Congressman Timothy J. Campbell of New York is at the Congressional Hotel. He is down here on business, but what it relates to Tim wil

injustice Done Her By the Published

Report of Her History. THE CRITIC has been informed, on good authority, that some of the details of the personal history of Miss Victoria Singleton, as published two weeks ago, do her a great injustice. She is but 18 years old instead of 20; she never tried to pass herself off as a white woman, and, although she was born in South Carolina, she came to this city with her parents many years ago, and has resided here since she was 8 years old. The romantic part of the story is also untrue, as THE CRITIC is credibly informed, an invention put upon a reporter by an evidently malicious person. Her father is dead, but she still resides with her mother, who has always been a highly respectable woman. Miss Singleton occupies a position as messenger in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, with which she is well satisfied, and where she enjoys the respect of the Chief of the Bureau and of the employer generally. ployes generally.

EDITOR CRITIC: I write a few lines to EDITOR CRITIC: I write a few lines to say that I have known Mrs. Singleton and her daughter Victoria for years. They were living near me, and I visited them constantly. Victoria was only eight years old when I first knew them. After her father's death they were in very destitute circumstances, but did not complain, and only let their meads be known to their mead. only let their needs be known to their most only let their needs be known to their most intimate Iriends. I am only a poor working woman myself, but I did all I could to help them, because I was so sorry for them, seeing them struggle along as they were obliged to do. In all the years I have known them I have never seen Victoria anything but quict, modest and well behaved. I know that she has never had any white t know that she has never had any white person attentive to her. It is a very unkind and treacherous person who has spread such false stories about her, and she a poor fatherless child. She and her mother have always been in delicate health, and they were so giad she had found a position that she could work in, and now the slander of some mean person is trying to slander of some mean person is trying to deprive her of this. They have a hard struggle to get along, but through it all they kept their honesty and good name.

Attention War Department. A perfect whirl wind of excitement as been created in Northwestern civil ian circles, says a St. Paul dispatch to the St. Louis Republic, by the action of a regular Army court martall in ordering a soldier imprisoned for a year for refusing to do menial duty for an officer. On October 24, 1889, Dell F. Wild, a private in Troop F. Eighth Cavalry, was ordered by Second Lieutenant M. F. Steele to assist him in placing a piece of canvass upon the back shed belonging to the officer. Wild refused the re-quest, and is said to have remarked. "I am working for Uncle Sam, not for

A court martial was convened; Wild was convicted of disobedience of orders, and the finding was approved by Gen. Ruger, commanding the department. The punishment allotted to the young soldier is that he be dishonorably discharged from the service, branded as a convict, his pay and allowances forfeit-ed, and that he be confined at hard labor for one year in the military prison at Fort Snelling.

This sentence is said to be the severest known to times of peace, and it is reported that indignant citizens will ap-peal to the Secretary of War in his be-half.

Walters' Queer Headgear. Fred. Walters, a young marine, presented a comical appearance when he walked into the waiting room of the B. & O. depot at 4 o'clock this morning full of whisky and with a red sheepskin carriage mat over his head instead of a cap. Officer Foley placed him under arrest and discovered that the mat had been taken from Senator Frye's carriage in the Senate stables. Walters was charged in the Police Court this morning with being a suspicious character. He said that he had wandered into the stable when drunk and went to sleep in a carriage. When he woke up he couldn't find his cap in the dark and therefore picked up the first thing he could lay his hands upon as a substitute, which proved to be the mat. It being evident that there was no intention of larceny, his personal bonds were taken. Popular Route to New York. The B. & O. express train service to New York has been established less than a year, but it is already the popular route to Philadelphia, New York and New England. This is because of the excellence of its equipment and the punctuality of its trains.

WASHINGTON GASLIGHT COMPANY, 413 Tenth Street N. W

> It is now universally conceded by even the most fanatical tectotalers that a glass of thoroughly matured and pure wine is the most wholesome, health and strength-giving beverage for mankind. Almost overy Stateno matter how cold its climate—produces grapes from which wine is pressed, but THE PASADENA WINES are made from those luscious SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA grapes which attain the highest grade of maturity and riponess and are therefore the best wines in the market. WASHINGTON, D. C.

am the sole agent for the Pasadena Wines and Brandies and sell at marvelously low prices. I have received orders from rich and poor alike and all cheerfully acknowledge that the Pasadena Wines and Brandles are by far the best and purest in the District, notwithstanding the fact that my prices are the very lowest.

My 30 per cent, removal discount will be indefinitely continued.

Please compare my prices with those
